Dear Andrew,

Thank you for your email dated 13/03/24 regarding to the Fire Authorities comments to the above planning application.

I am working on the understanding that if the additional detail was known at this stage it would have been submitted – so in essence no further action is required at this time, unless the Planning Authority state contrary.

It still remains the opinion of the Fire Authority that prior to commencement professional or evidence based assurances will be sought to the areas identified in its consultation response.

I have only c.c. in the planning authority to avoid comment of unintentional exclusion.

Regards

Tom
